Top tips to help families discover the magic of reading

Sharing stories together helps us discover ourselves and others. Celebrate with Little Miss Tiny as she realises that everyone has something about them that makes them special.

Here are some top tips from the National Literacy Trust to help families bring stories to life at home:

- Encourage your child to celebrate being different! Help your child pick three favourite qualities about themselves. Now ask them to do the same for a friend or a family member. Taking care of yourself and thinking about others builds children's confidence and enjoyment in the way they interact with the world around them.
- Ask your child to imagine how Little Miss Tiny and her friends might use their gifts in a playground. How would they go on the swing or down the slide? Supporting your child's imagination in this way builds their creativity.
- Why not give audiobooks and storytelling videos a try? They can be really fun and are also great for children who aren't keen on reading.
- Stories come in all shapes and sizes, from books to comics to magazines and newspapers. All reading counts so get exploring.
- Make story time fun by using different voices for characters and acting out your favourite parts.

The National Literacy Trust is proud to partner with McDonald's to help families discover the magic of reading together.

MR. MEN LITTLE MISS All Different

This is a story about celebrating our differences.

We are all wonderfully different and equally special.

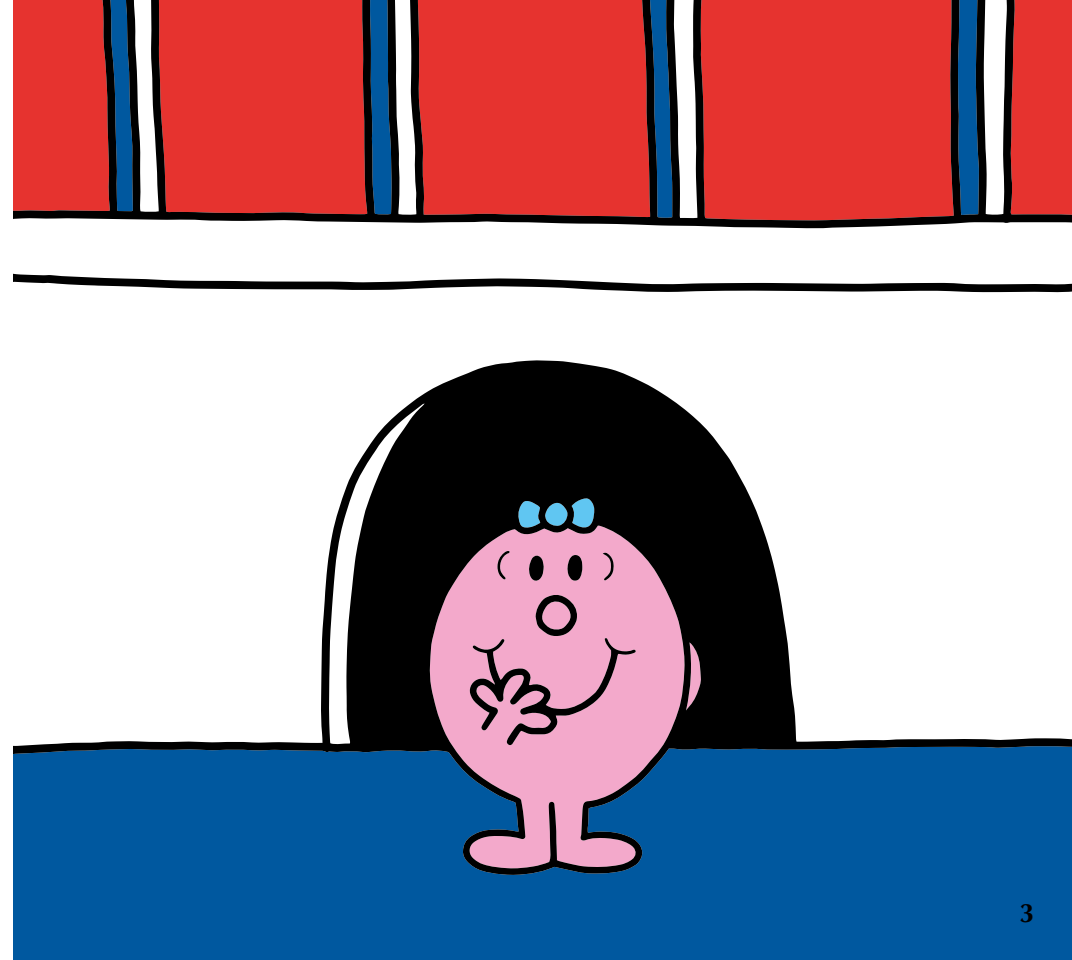

What makes you ... You?

Meet Little Miss Tiny.

Little Miss Tiny is very small.

So small that she lives in a mousehole at Home Farm.

Little Miss Tiny sometimes wishes she was taller.

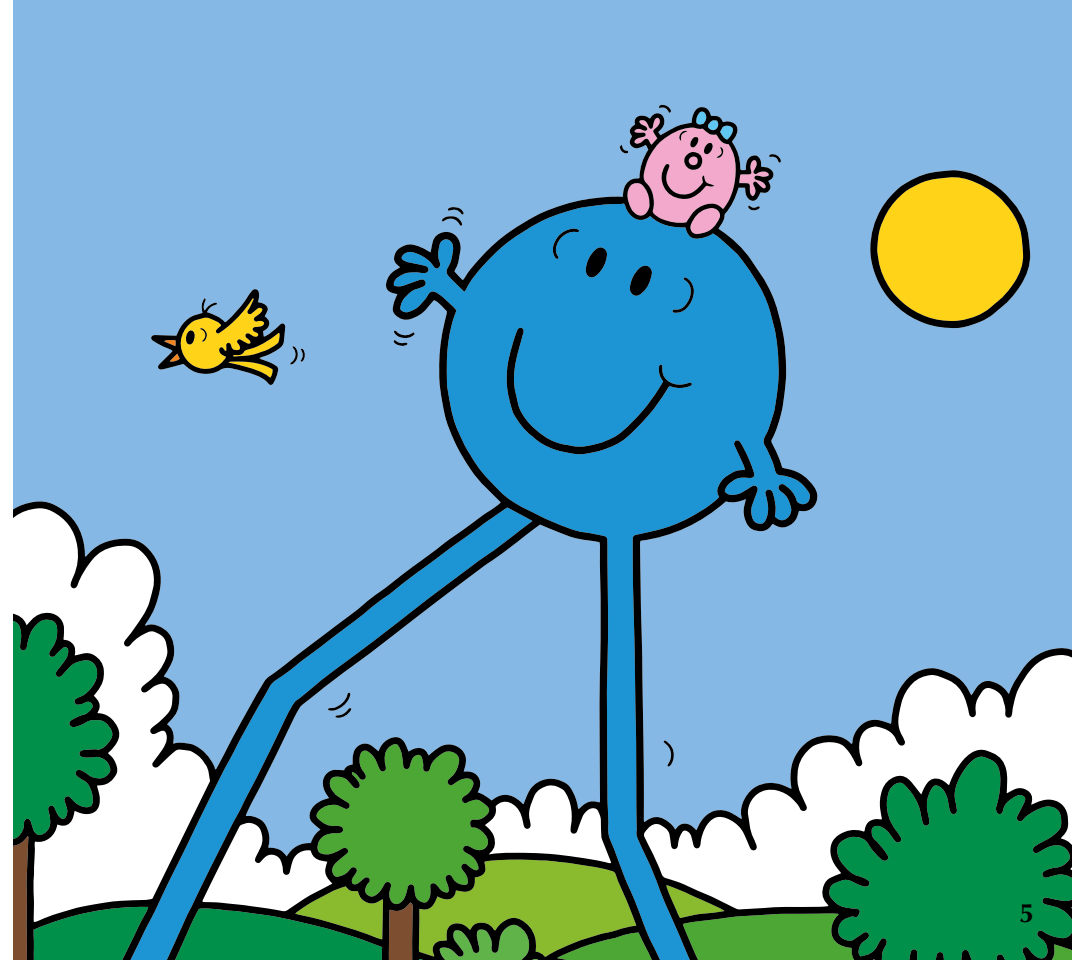

Did you know that she has a friend called Mr Tall?

Mr Tall is quite possibly the tallest person in the world.

Once upon a time, Mr Tall wished his legs weren't so very, very long.

But then, with some help from his friends, he realised he was perfect as he is.

Though that's another story!

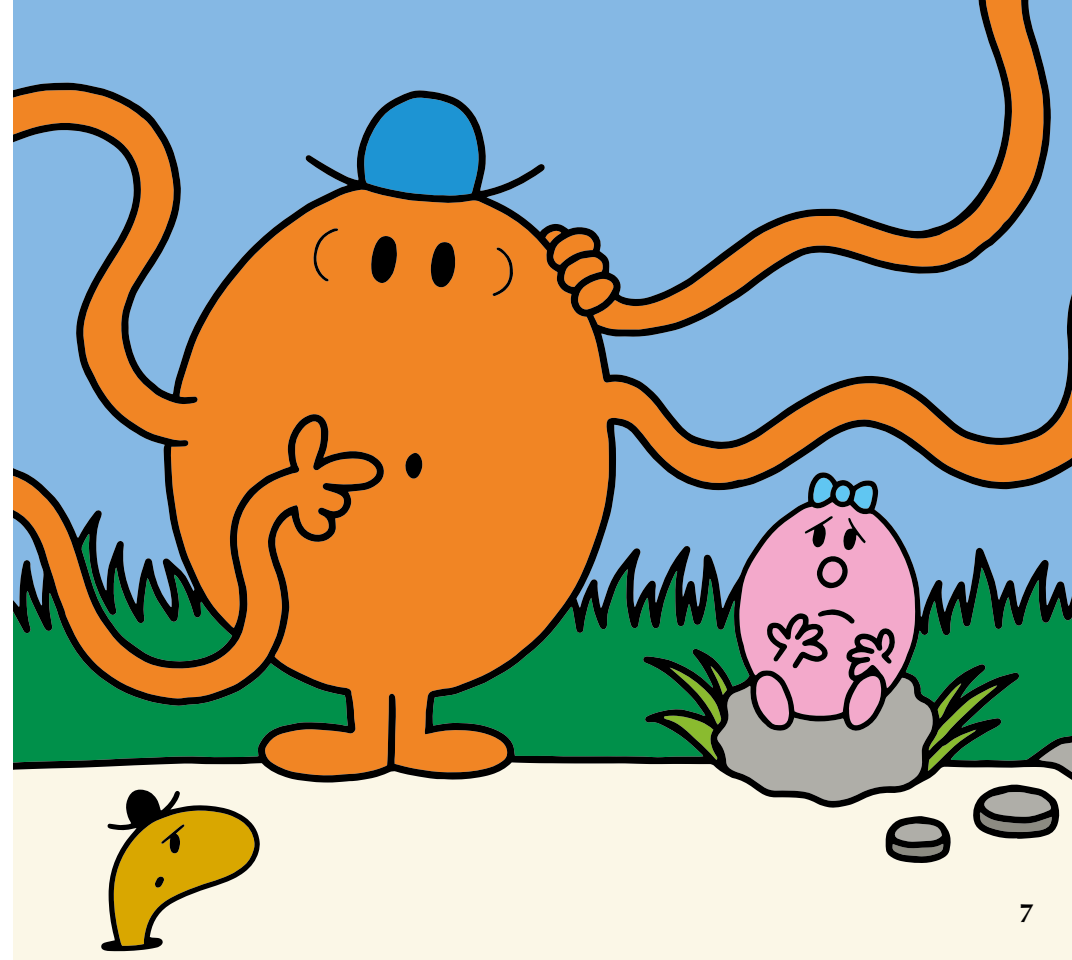

One of the friends who helped him was Mr Tickle, who has extraordinarily long arms.

Now Mr Tickle was going to help Little Miss Tiny, too.

One day, Mr Tickle saw Little Miss Tiny looking very sad.

"Are you OK, Little Miss Tiny?" he asked, kindly.

"I wish I was bigger," she replied. "I went to the park and I'm too tiny to get onto the swing."

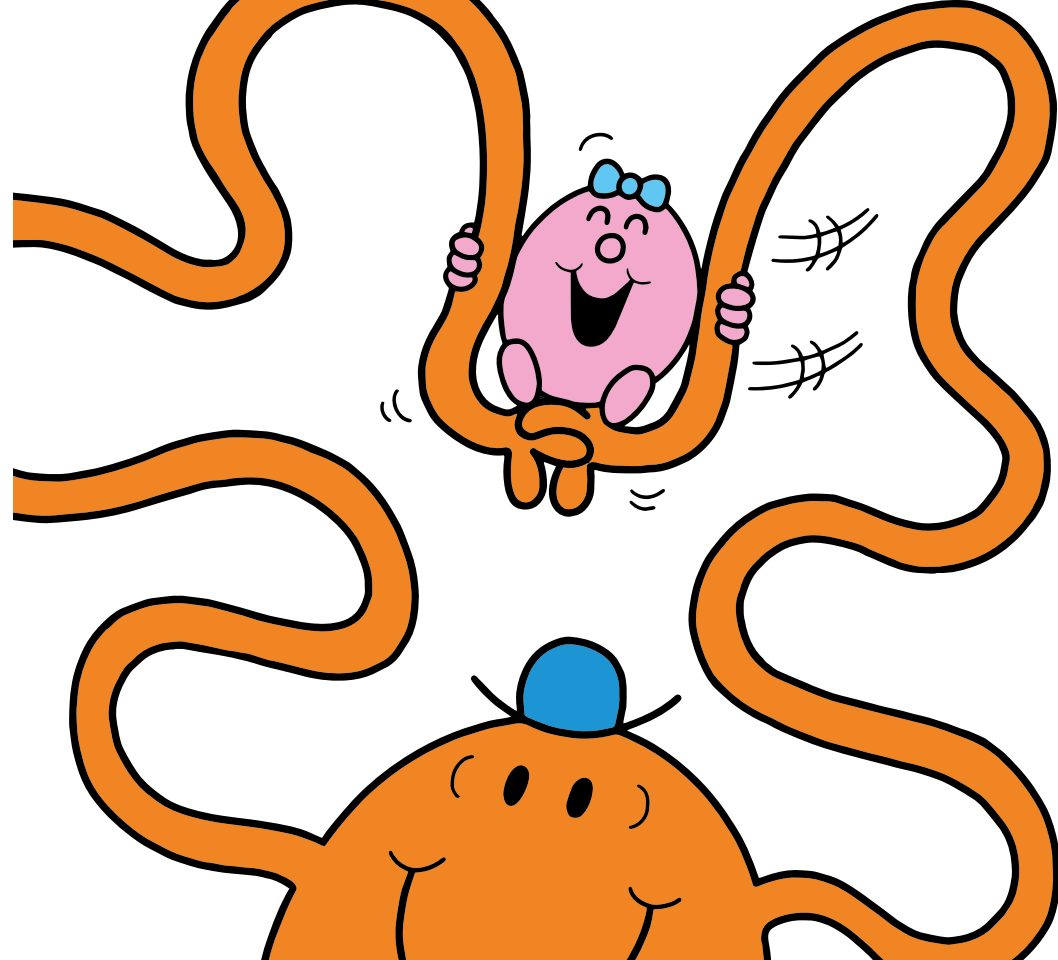

Mr Tickle smiled widely.

"Would you like me to help?" he asked, and with a nod from Little Miss Tiny, he used his extraordinarily long arms as her very own, perfectly-sized swing.

"That was fun!" she giggled. "Do you like having long arms, Mr Tickle?"

"I love my long arms!" he exclaimed. "They're great for reaching things, even when I'm in a different room and best of all, they're perfect for tickling! They make me ... Me."

And can you guess what Mr Tickle did then?

That's right, he tickled Little Miss Tiny!

"I just wish I could reach to tickle you back," she said between giggles.

"Life would be dull if we were all the same," replied Mr Tickle, with one last tickle.

Do you have friends who are different from you?

The Mr Men and Little Miss are all different shapes, sizes and colours. And they have different personalities, too.

Little Miss Sunshine is as joyful as a summer's day and can always see the bright side.

While Mr Grumpy is as gloomy as a storm cloud and tends to look on the bleak side.

Little Miss Neat is probably the tidiest person in the world and can't stand a mess.

Whereas Mr Messy is so messy that he's even left a trail of messy fingerprints on this page!

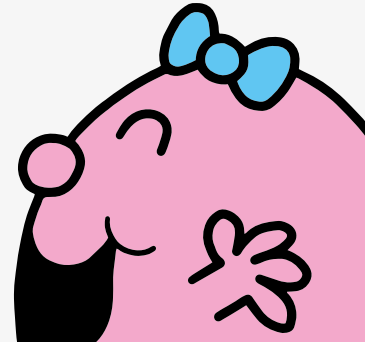

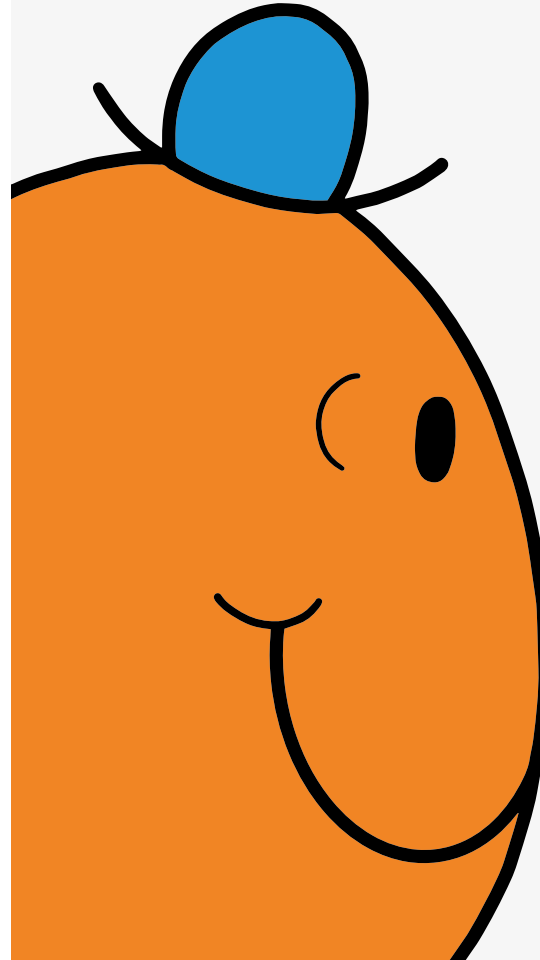

As you may have realised, their names say quite a lot about them.

But there is much more to Little Miss Tiny than her size.

“Shall we go back to the park?” asked Mr Tickle.
“Time to go on a real swing?”

“Yes, please,” smiled Little Miss Tiny. “I also want to go on the slide and climbing frame and roundabout and I love seeing everyone and talking to them ...”

Little Miss Tiny may be small, but she has a BIG personality!

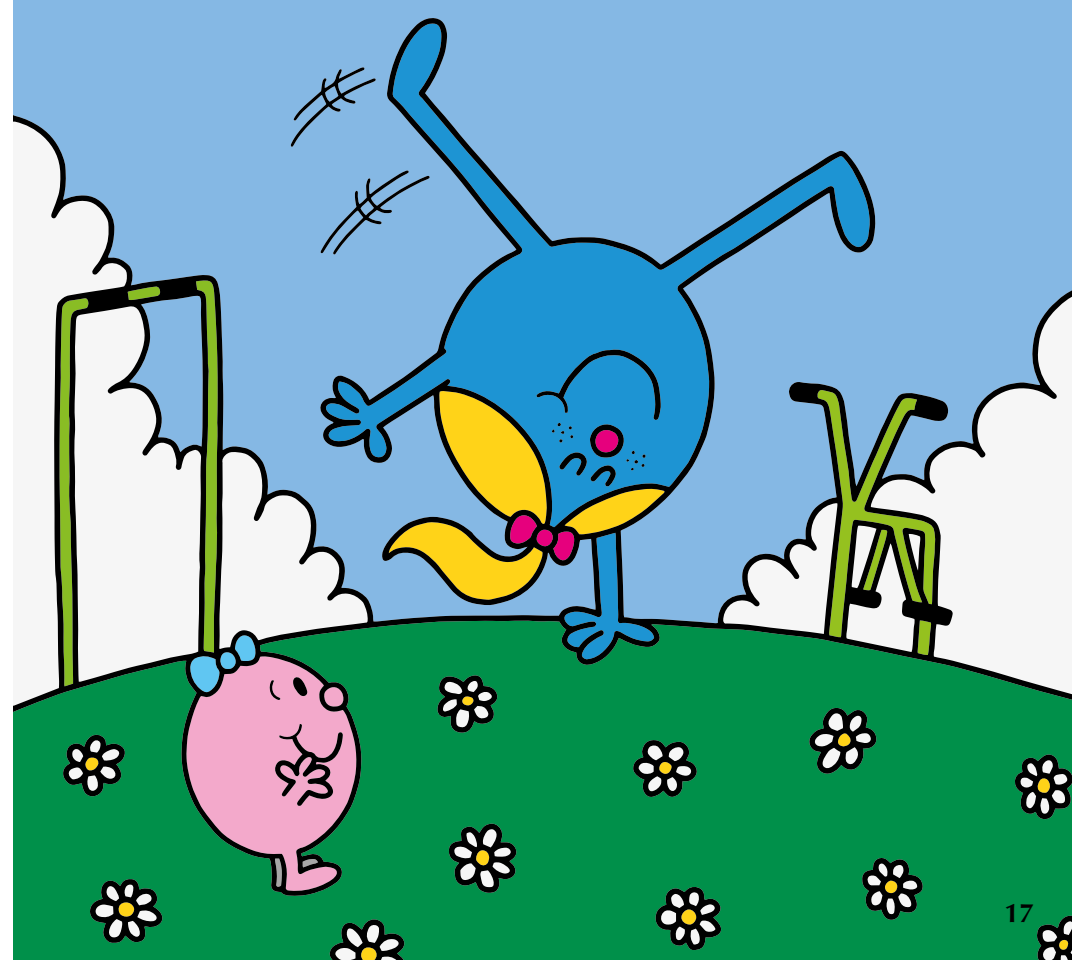

When they arrived at the park, Mr Clever was sat reading his book in the shade.

Mr Clever enjoys learning and exercising his brain. He's a good person to talk to if you want to understand something.

While Little Miss Somersault was doing somersaults across the sports equipment.

She is full of energy and loves being active. The perfect person to play with at the park!

Little Miss Tiny went straight over to join Little Miss Somersault.

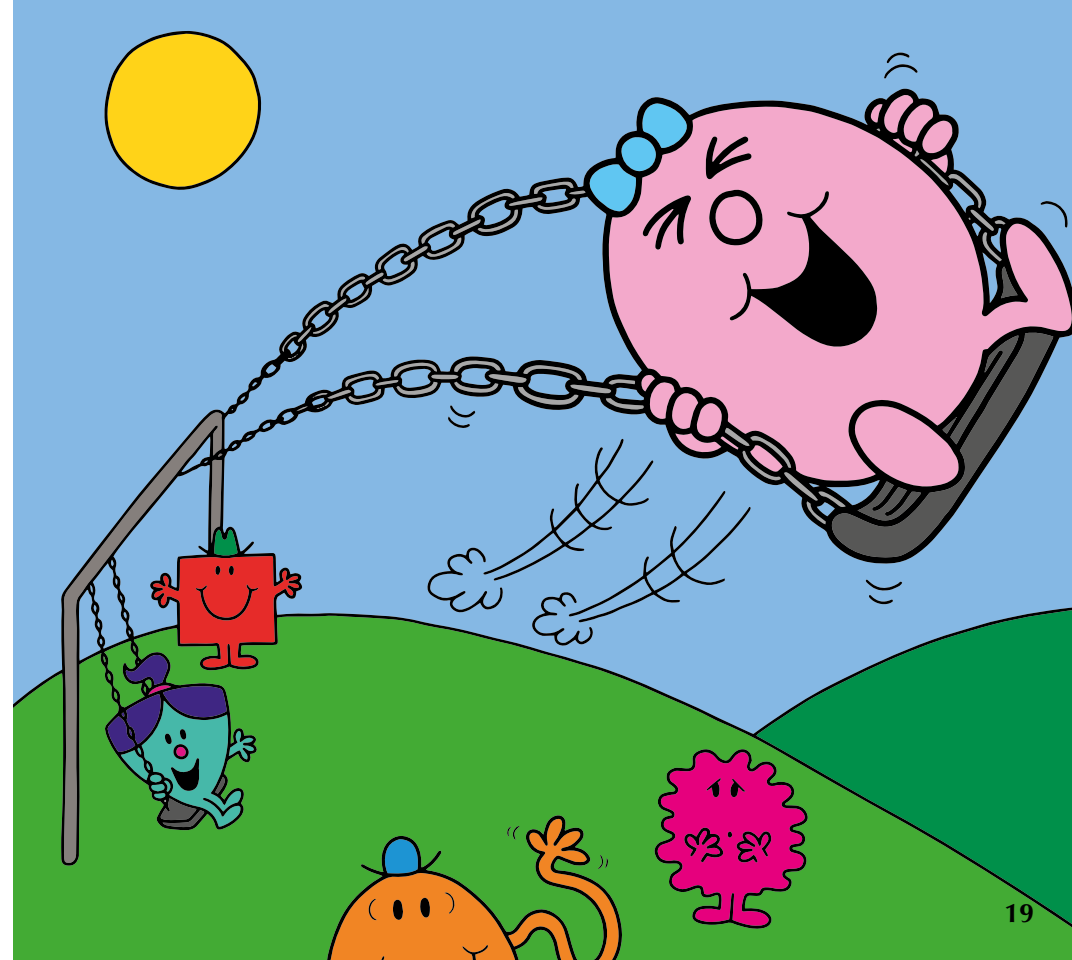

Then Mr Tickle used his extraordinarily long arms to lift Little Miss Tiny onto the swing.

With some big pushes from Mr Strong, she was soon going higher than Little Miss Brave!

"You're fearless, Little Miss Tiny!" laughed Mr Tickle. "I don't think I could ever swing you that high."

Mr Jelly looked on in horror, as he prefers to keep his feet firmly on the ground.

Do you like doing different things to your friends?

The world is all the more balanced and interesting because people are different.

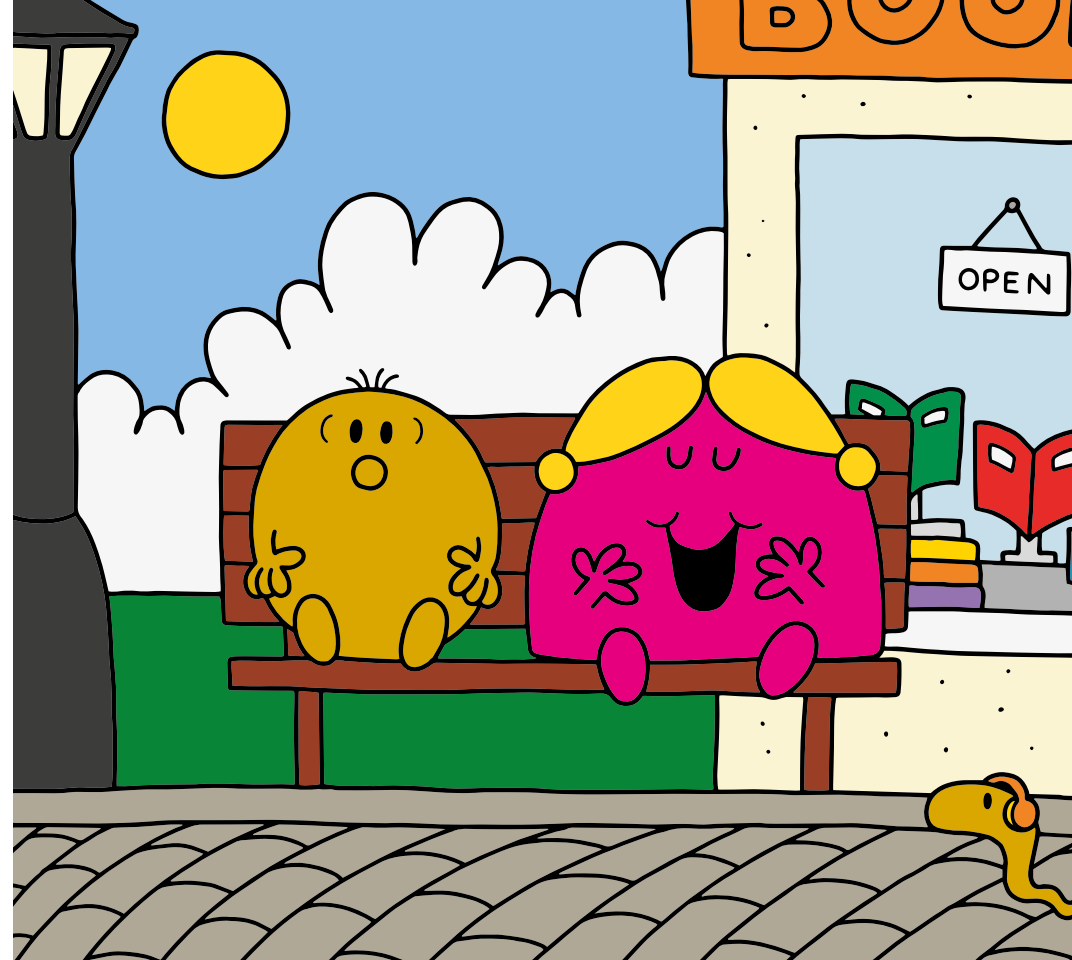

Little Miss Chatterbox likes to talk a lot.

While Mr Quiet prefers the quiet life.

Little Miss Quick is always in a hurry.

While Mr Slow likes to take things slowly.

What name would your family give you?

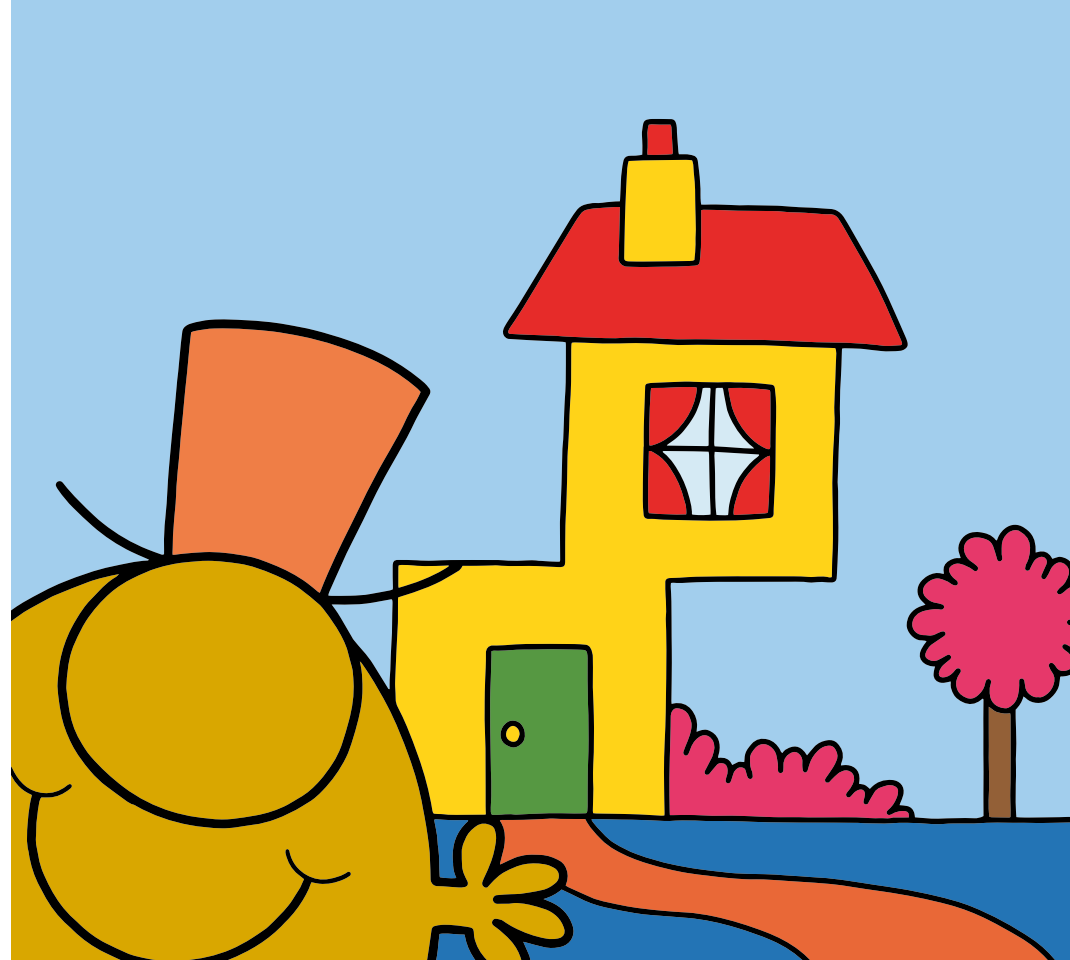

Nothing is too splendid for Little Miss Splendid.

She lives in a huge house surrounded by large gardens.

Whereas Mr Silly lives in quite the silliest-looking house you've ever seen.

As you may know, Mr Silly lives in Nonsenseland where everything is as silly as can be!

Their houses are very different, but suit them both perfectly.

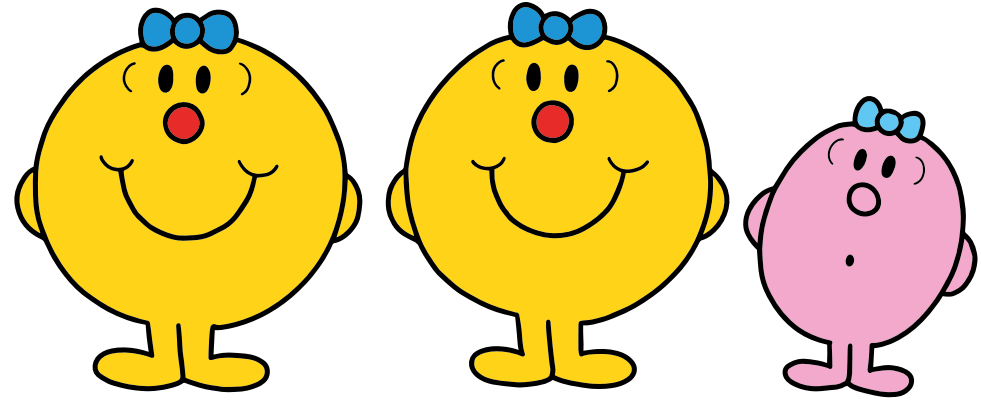

Did you know that there is a place called Twoland?

In Twoland there are two of everything and that's where Little Miss Twins live.

That day, Little Miss Twin and Little Miss Twin were at the park.

They are almost as small as Little Miss Tiny.

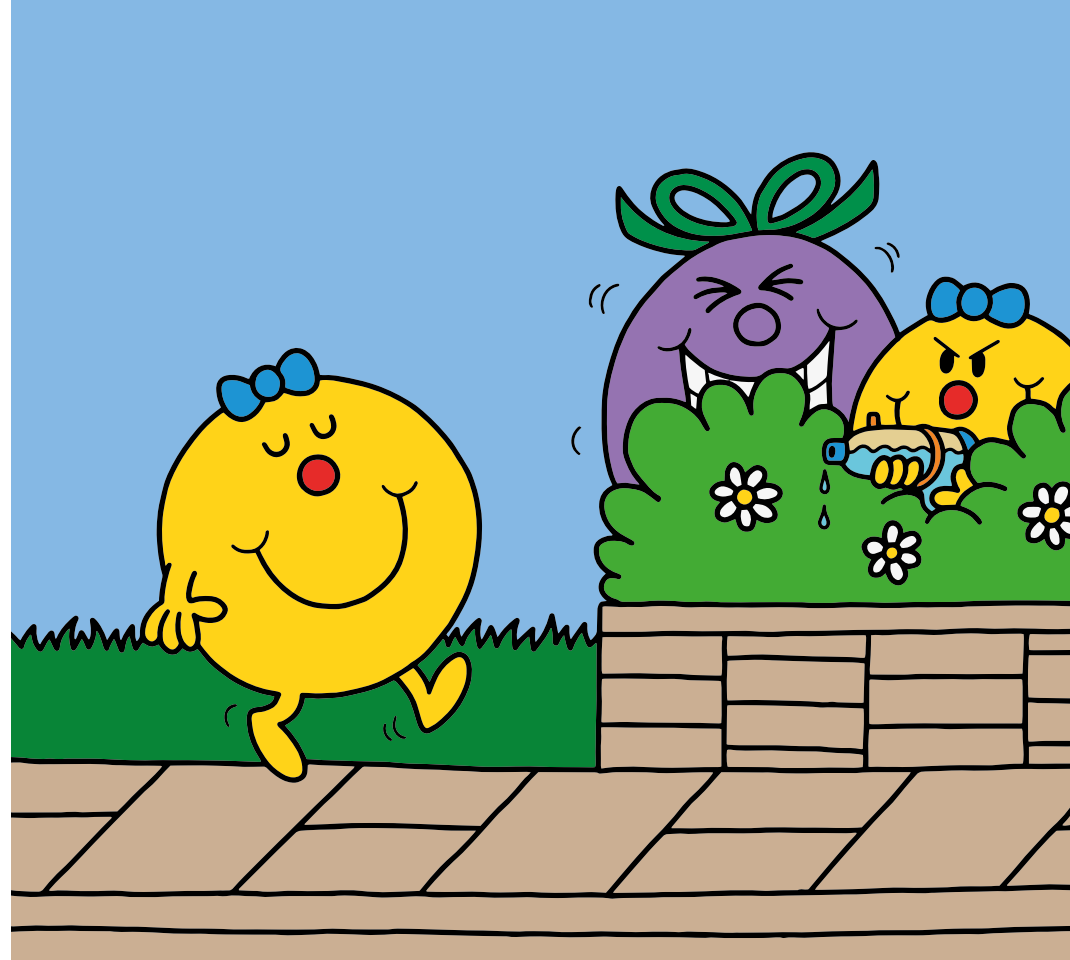

Now the Little Miss Twins may look alike, but they are very different.

One Little Miss Twin is as angelic as Mr Perfect.

While the other Little Miss Twin is very cheeky and is good friends with Little Miss Naughty!

The twins are individuals. Their differences make them who they are.

The friends all decided to play a game of hide-and-seek.

Little Miss Tiny found it easy to find Mr Tickle with his long arms and Little Miss Somersault with her long legs, but one Little Miss Twin was particularly hard to find.

Can you guess who that was?

That's right, it was the cheeky Little Miss Twin!

Where could she be?

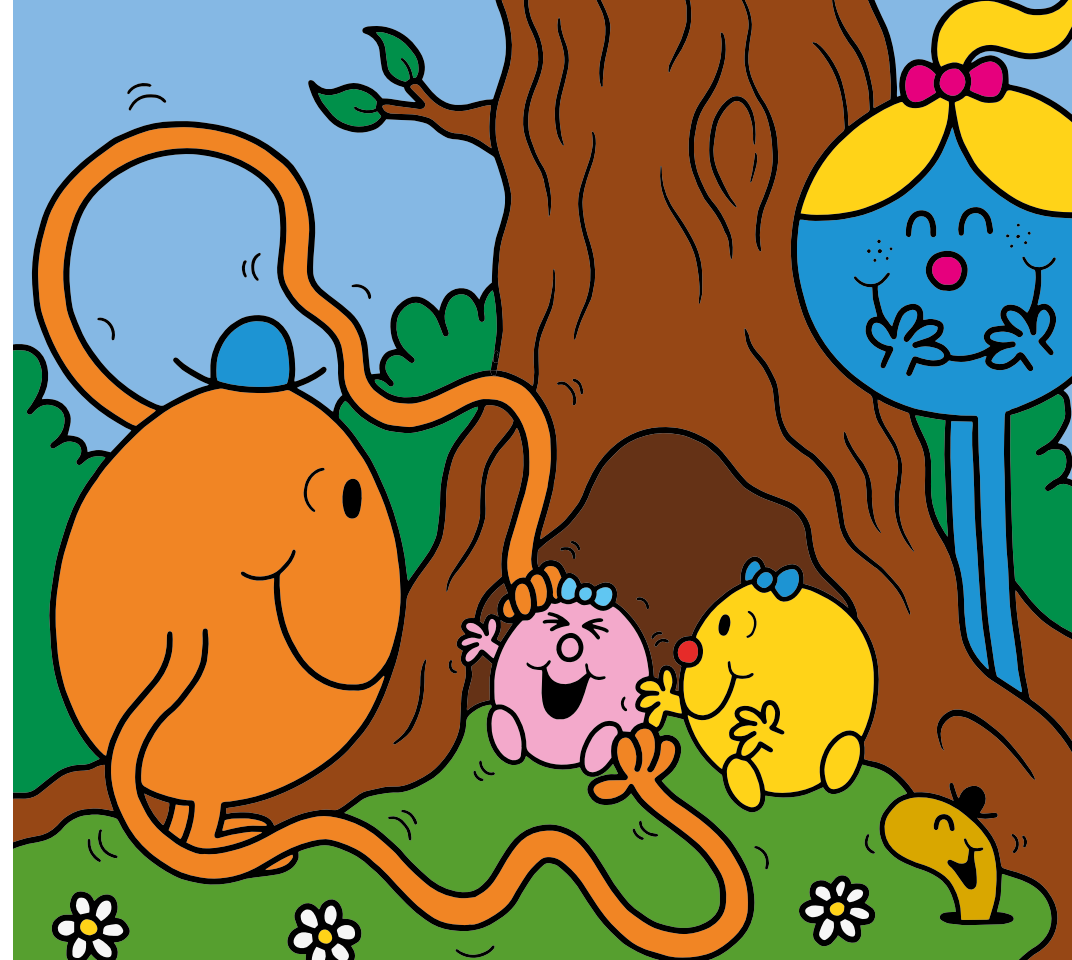

Little Miss Tiny searched high and low, and soon realised that size is her superpower as she's able to get into the smallest places.

She found Little Miss Twin in the hollow of a tree!

"It looks like being tiny isn't so bad after all!" she laughed.

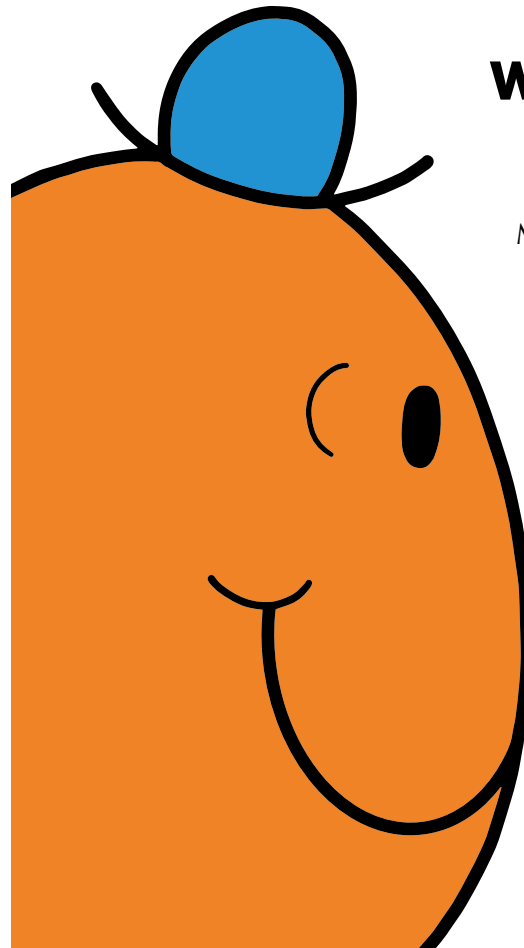

Mr Tickle beamed happily.

"You may be tiny, but you're brave and funny too and I say that calls for ...

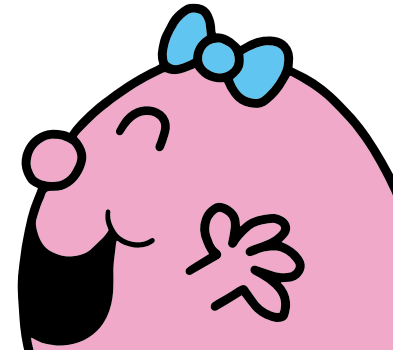

... double the tickles!"

With which, Little Miss Twin cheekily tickled her too!

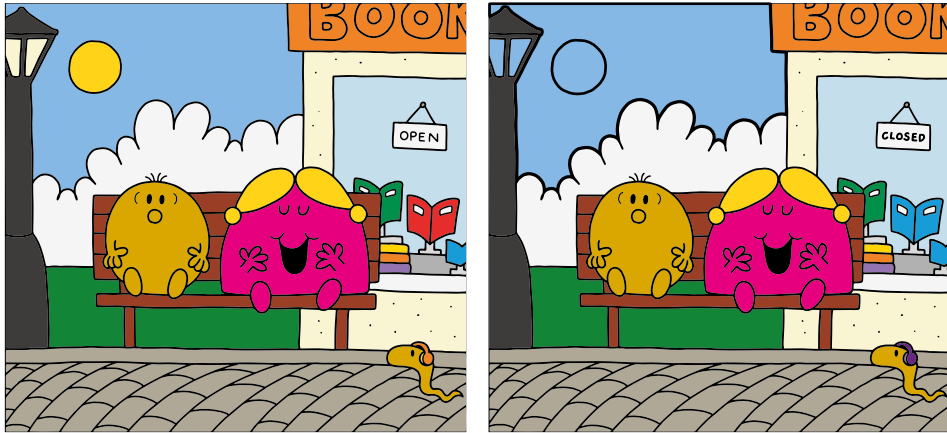

WHAT MAKES YOU... YOU?

Little Miss Tiny is very small and
Mr Tickle has extraordinarily long arms.
What would your family call you
if you were a Mr Men or Little Miss character?
